

Moving to a new Property?

By using this free service you are supporting INCH to provide safe and affordable homes to families and single people.

At the same time, INCH is assisting you with connecting utility services to your new property.

This connecting service program is a simple and convenient online program to assist any person who is moving.

You will be provided with assistance to disconnect and/or connect electricity, gas, phone, broadband, pay TV and other utilities.

A dedicated team will look after you and provide fast, smooth and a stay in touch service to make sure everything goes smoothly with connecting services at your new property.

If you connect with any service, INCH receives various rewards from the service providers.

Connection Service

INCH partners with Ray White – West End to offer this service to you.

To open <https://raywhitewestend.com.au> (right click – to open link in new tab or copy & past web address in new tab)

This Connection Service is owned and managed by realestate.com.au.

Availability of services depends upon a few things, such as validation that the utilities provider can connect to your new address and acceptance of your connection may include a credit check.

Connection Services from realestate.com.au provides you with a reference number and will provide emails or SMS updates regarding your connection status.

To Register with Connection Services, please use the link below

To open

<https://www.realestate.com.au/connect/agent/PDMWZF>

(right click – to open link in new tab or copy & past web address in new tab)

Terms and Conditions

I/we acknowledge that if I/we have selected one of the products or services available through realestate.com.au and the relevant retailer agrees to provide that service to me/us, then I/we will enter into a contract with that retailer for the provision of that service.

Retailers retain discretion in relation to accepting my request for products or services - acceptance may be affected by factors such as retailers credit criteria or ability to supply to my selected address.

I/we consent to realestate.com.au and its Service Provider using my/our personal information in accordance with the Personal Information Collection Statement (available online or by request) including using those details to contact me/us by phone, SMS, direct mail and email in relation to the selected product(s) or service(s).

I/we acknowledge that realestate.com.au and may receive commissions or fees from my/our selected retailers, and INCH Housing Inc. via Ray White Real Estate – West End that I/we are connecting our utilities to, may also receive commissions or fees from realestate.com.au if I/we choose to use this connection service.

I/we acknowledge that my/our current retailer(s) may charge disconnection, exit or other fees when ending my/our utility services with them.

I/we acknowledge that we are entitled to obtain services under different terms and conditions, or from different retailers, to those available through realestate.com.au and understand that the products and services displayed on the portal site are the only ones that are available as part of realestate.com.au and understand that the products and services this connection service can help me/us get connected or disconnected by my/our requested dates, realestate.com.au cannot guarantee that you will be connected or disconnected, or by your requested timeframe.

I we agree that, to the maximum extent permitted by law, realestate.com.au and its Service Provider will have no liability to me/us for the provision of the service.